The Rock County Cancer Coalition has received a $105,000 donation from Hendricks Commercial Properties, proceeds from the annual Rockin' the Green golf fundraiser in September at The Beloit Club.

The coalition's mission is to ease the financial burdens of cancer patients in Rock County.

“The money raised from this successful event will directly help cancer patients in the Rock County community,” Bruce Thoms, founder and coalition board president, said in a news release. “RCCC is incredibly thankful for the support and kindness that Hendricks Commercial Properties shows to us every year.”
